

Regional Commercial Manager

$110,000 package – work to live!

Enjoy a personally satisfying career and live a way of life that will turn the rest green with envy.

There's time for work...

Work for an employer that is committed to great working hours, job variety, reward and recognition, succession planning, and career and leadership development.

Serco Sodexho Defence Services (SSDS) leads the market in the provision of supplies, equipment and a range of other services to the Australian Defence Organisation, a relationship that is more than 10 years strong.

Join us in the role of Commercial Manager and you walk in as a key member of the Senior Management Team. Your high quality and astute financial and commercial analysis will allow our business to strengthen its market presence. You will manage a small finance team and take on monthly reporting, cash flow management, capex reviews and the management of business risk.

We expect you will have experience in all facets of commercial management including cost planning, contract variations, executive reporting, post contract administration, claims management and high level negotiation skills.

You will be degree qualified in a financial / commercial discipline, and you will demonstrate a clear record of providing commercial leadership within similar operations.

And there's time for play...

Find yourself living life in an area affectionately known as Australia's Top End.

You'll call Darwin home and enjoy the warmth this city delivers – it's not just the climate that's warm and welcoming - it's the people too.

With a population of approximately 114,000, Darwin offers every convenience you would expect in a major city – from quality childcare and education facilities, sports fields and clubs through to first class health facilities, shops and major banks and businesses.

There are vibrant arts and cultural communities; you'll be spoilt for choice when it comes to restaurants, cafes and coffee shops; and the natural wonders of the Northern Territory are yours to explore and discover including the outback, national parks and of course the abundant native Australian wildlife.

So why wouldn't you change...

Apply now before someone else beats you to it.

Assistance with relocation costs will be considered.

Please visit www.ssd.com.au for further information or direct your confidential enquiry to Wayne Smith, NT Regional Manager on 08 8935 4429.
